ABOUT THE BRAND

Leaf & Lore

Leaf & Lore is a wellness brand built around the quiet power of everyday rituals. Rooted in nature, guided by wisdom, and crafted with intention, we create thoughtful products and experiences that bring presence, comfort, and meaning into daily life. Inspired by the wisdom found in nature, traditions, and the rituals passed down through generations, every creation is designed to make mindful living feel simple, beautiful, and approachable.

From nourishing creations and botanical blends to mindful practices and everyday objects, our offerings are made to become part of the moments that gently shape how we live. We believe true well-being isn't about perfection or doing more. It is found in the small, intentional choices we return to each day — a warm cup, a nourishing bite, a quiet pause, or a moment to reconnect with ourselves. Through everything we create, Leaf & Lore invites you to slow down, live with greater intention, and discover the meaning in the everyday.

ABOUT THE FOUNDER

Dr. Pooja Dhingra

Dr. Pooja Dhingra's journey spans Dental Surgery, Public Health, women's wellness, nutrition, coaching and authorship shaped by a belief that well-being should be intentional, accessible and part of everyday life.

Her work with women and her understanding of health and nutrition led her to explore wellness beyond conventional practices towards nourishment, nature, self-care and the rituals that shape how we live.

She is also the author of Dear Tired Women, a reflection on the experiences and expectations of modern women.

Leaf & Lore is the natural extension of that journey bringing together botanical teas, nourishing foods, traditional wellness blends, mindful skincare, reading and everyday objects, thoughtfully curated for modern living.
